

Young Scot Rewards & the Saltire Awards

What is Young Scot Rewards?

Young Scot Rewards is a brand new innovative online platform, developed through extensive consultation with young people and partners, which encourages young people to participate in positive activities which benefit themselves and their communities.

Through Young Scot Rewards, young people are able to collect points on their Young Scot National Entitlement Card (NEC) for taking part in a variety of activities offered by a range of cross-sector partners. These activities include volunteering, contributing to consultations and participating in opportunities around sport, health, arts and the environment.

As their points accumulate, they are then able to unlock achievements and rewards which include special offers and the chance to take part in unique experiences. Examples of rewards currently available include two-for-one driving lessons with BSM, going behind the scenes at the filming of the latest series of 'Gary: Tank Commander' and the daring opportunity to swim with sharks at Deep Sea World.

How does it link with the Saltire Awards?

Young Scot has teamed up with the Scottish Government and third sector interfaces to offer points to young people who complete each stage of the Saltire Awards.

What do I need to do as part of the Saltire Awards?

To award points, all you need to do is give the young person a voucher once they have achieved the relevant stage of the Saltire Awards. Points vouchers should be handed out as follows:

Stage	Points
Challenge	250
Approach (10 hours)	250
Approach (25 hours)	500
Ascent (50 hours)	500
Ascent (100 hours)	1,000
Ascent (200 hours)	1,500
Ascent (500 hours)	2,000
Summit	2,500

What do young people need to do?

To claim their points, young people simply need to:

- Log-in or sign-up at www.youngscot.org/rewards
- Click the button to 'redeem your points'
- Enter the code on the back of their voucher

A green rectangular button with a slight 3D effect and a shadow, containing the text "Redeem your points" in white, sans-serif font.

The points will be added to their account and they will be informed of what achievements and rewards they have unlocked. They will be also able to view other activities they can participate in to earn more points and unlock other achievements and rewards.

FAQ

- Do young people need a Young Scot card to claim their points?

No – they can sign-up for Young Scot Rewards and claim points at any time. However, a card number needs to be entered before Rewards can be claimed. Instructions are provided at www.youngscot.org/card on how to apply for or renew their card.

- Could young people share the points code with someone else who might not have completed a Saltire Award?

No – the code on each Saltire Award points voucher is unique. Once it has been used once, it cannot be used by another person.

- Do I need to share any data with Young Scot about the young people who participate?

No – it is the responsibility of the individual young person to claim their points at www.youngscot.org/rewards using their voucher code. However, someone from Young Scot may contact you to ask general questions as part of an evaluation process.
